III. REPORTS

A) Superintendent/Principal’s Report

- Took a tour of the buildings and grounds today with Bob Hauser- and things are shaping up for our opening – teachers will return next week for two days of training on the 3rd and 4th
  - Day one will focus on creating a positive environment for teaching and learning
  - Day two will focus on the continued development of our data teams for teachers in grades 6-12 and on Lucy Calkin’s Writer’s workshop for our PK-5th grade teachers
  - A copy of the plan for the day is in your folders
  - Also included are the Middle States goals – that I ask that you review, so we can approve them at our next meeting
  - Students return for a full day on the 8th---- this is a full day for all students
  - I will visit elementary classes to welcome students back and to remind them of following teacher’s directions/school rules/ etc.
  - I will host a welcome back for secondary right after homeroom –extending homeroom a bit – and meeting with them during the beginning of first period (after breakfast) to welcome new students, and remind of the rules – particularly the focus on cell phones and appropriate behavior – the school wide matrix
  - I will review the school wide matrix for grades 1-5 on the second day during first period

- I attended a training with a team (Carrie McDermott, Jeff Neubauer, Kat McCleland) at Dowling College based on a leadership book called: Professional Capital: Transforming Teaching in Every School – while the meeting wasn’t exactly what we had hoped it would be, we have decided that we will form a committee to read the book and use it to guide our thinking around our goals, and our plans for achieving those goals. I have ordered 10 copies and we will see if we can put together a committee willing to read and discuss in a professional learning circle

- Our business office, admin team, clerical staff and custodial staff – along with Ken Giosi and Mary Anne Jules – worked hard all summer, and I believe we are set to go. We will need to hire an additional aide, due to the resignation of one of our aides, but will user September to do that – so we can conduct a full search – generally we have been leaning towards certified teachers to add to our team.
• I have completed our teacher evaluations now that the state test scores have come in. All teachers scored effective or highly effective using our APPR evaluation system.

• I have been invited to, and plan to attend a meeting at EH with area district and town officials to (once again) discuss cost savings through shared services. I have asked Bob Hauser to join us. It is on September 15th- so we will update you following that meeting.

• Due to the increased need for professional development, our two monthly faculty meetings will be used for staff trainings this year – we believe that with two meetings monthly there will be more forward movement on the use of data to inform instruction, and understanding what needs to be done to assure that our curriculum is aligned with the new standards.
